Place of Mind

One after the other all the stars appear
And Outside, the moon rises to his place Light up everything wherever you are
I know that I'm asking too much
....always.

One after the other all the tears appear
And Outside, the clouds rise up high Rain down everything wherever I am
I know that I'm asking too much
I know that I'm asking too much

I've been waiting here so long but the time passes away
what is a day without light?
what is a day without light
I know that I'm asking too much
