

Revolving around you

I hear your voice inside my head
Time is standing still around me Again and again, I'm forgetting everything and I'm closing my eyes I feel your closeness but you're so far away and sometimes, when I open my eyes...

All I want is just to please That's why I'm exchanging my grey clothes for colourful ones
My thoughts are revolving around you
But you're so far away
And as I open my eyes my imagination disappears

Refrain:

I don't like these days
Memories are torturing me
And again I know where I stand and who I am

And like this, I continue longing for your tenderness, caress Day by day and hour by hour without wasting a word on it Time cannot cure my pain
But nevertheless she's gonna show me the way
That's how hope mingles with patience in the end I open my eyes!
